SHELTON STATE RECEIVES GRANT

The Committee for the Humanities in Alabama has awarded Shelton State Community College a literature grant to bring in noted scholars and writers for a program scheduled this month.

The humanities grant, the first for the college, is for $7,550 and will be used to fund a program on American and British literature.

Noted author James Dickey and other literature scholars will head the program which is scheduled to be held currently with the English Professional Development Conference scheduled at Shelton State November 26 - 28. Dickey's reading will be Monday, November 26.

Other scholars to appear on the humanities program are Richard Peck, dean of the University of Alabama College of Arts and Sciences, Hank Lazer, Thomas Rabbitt and Dara Wier, UA English faculty and Randy Cross, English instructor for Calhoun State Community College.

The grant was written by Louis Skipper, English instructor at the college, and Dr. Arthur Howington, dean of instruction. All scheduled events are free and will be open to the public.

LOCAL PIANIST TO PERFORM AT SHELTON

Vicki Ingram, local pianist and currently a student in the graduate program at the University of Alabama, will perform at the next concert at Shelton State as part of the college's fall miniconcert series. Ms. Ingram will play at 12:30 p.m. on Monday, November 4, in the music room of the Junior College Division.

Ms. Ingram received her undergraduate degree from the University where she was a recipient of a Tuscaloosa Music Club scholarship. A student of Amanda Penick, she is currently a graduate assistant in piano ensemble and the University Preparatory School. Ms. Ingram also serves as an accompanist for Alberta United Methodist Church and the Shelton Singers. She is pursuing a Master of Music Degree in piano pedagogy.

Selections on the program will include works by Prokofieff, Chopin, Beethoven, and Muczynski. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ingram of Tuscaloosa. The concert is free and open to the public.

SHELTON INSTRUCTOR WORKSHOP LEADER AT NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Shelton math instructor Guesna Dohrman recently served as workshop leader for the annual conference of American Mathematical Association of Two Year college personnel which was held in New York City. The title of the workshop was "Designing Personalized math Programs." Mrs. Dohrman's subject was how to improve the quality of math instruction by designing specific programs or courses for a target group.

RAMSEY LEWIS TRIO

The Ramsey Lewis Trio will perform at the Bama Theatre on Tuesday, November 20, at 8 p.m. as the second scheduling of this year's Star Series. Lewis is uniquely qualified to cover the entire spectrum of modern music -- classical, jazz, contemporary pop, and ethnic styles. Lewis has been called the most innovative of keyboard masters. Tickets may be ordered by calling the Bama Theatre.

FIRE AND ARSON INVESTIGATION CONFERENCE SCHEDULED

The Alabama State Fire college in cooperation with the State Fire Marshall's office and the Alabama Association of Arson Investigators announces the 25th Fire and Arson Investigation Conference scheduled for November 13-16 at the Fire College located off McFarland Blvd.

This school is structured primarily for fire service, law enforcement and insurance investigators, but will prove helpful to anyone in fire investigative work in any capacity. Pre-registration is encouraged.

TCP SCHEDULES SECOND PRODUCTION

The Tuscaloosa Community Players will present "The Odd Couple" on November 14-18 at the Bama Theatre. Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday - Saturday with a 2 p.m. matinee on Sunday, November 18. Paul Looney, Shelton instructor, is director of TCP.

TECHNICAL TALK

The Technical Division of Shelton State Community College will register on Wednesday, November 7.
